Roundup Repeat!

Belle Fourche Beacon | December 11, 2019 Issue

LAS VEGAS - The Black Hills Roundup has kept its lofty perch atop the rodeo world. For the second year in a row Belle Fourche's signature event has been named best in the country by the PRCA.

Rodeo of the Year honors were presented to the Roundup Committee members and city representatives at the annual awards banquet held Wednesday at the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo. It was the perfect way to end the 100th anniversary celebration of the Roundup.

"Wow, it's hard to put into words what it was like to hear our name called again," said Keith Anderson, committee chairman. "It's humbling. To think of the 100 other rodeos in our division and just to make the top five is really something."

Anderson says it's especially meaningful to win the award considering that the rodeo contestants themselves nominate and vote on the winner.

"It's just nice to know that the contestants noticed all the hard work from the volunteers and the board members that go into putting on the Roundup," Anderson said. "It says a lot for the support we get from our sponsors and the city."

The Roundup was competing with five other finalists in the Medium Outdoor Rodeo of the Year category; Stephenville, Texas, Coleman Texas, Amarillo, Texas, and Estes Park, Colorado.

"There's so much that goes into putting on this event, it's a lot of moving pieces," Anderson said. "Our goal as the Roundup committee is to try and make it bigger and better every year and we seemed to have been able to do that for the last few years. In 2020 we'll be at this thing for 101 years. Maybe we're getting a few things figured out."

For 31 of those 101 years Powder River Rodeo has contracted with the Roundup to provide bucking stock. They were named 2019 Remuda Award winner. This prestigious award goes to the stock contracting firm that provides the best, most consistent pen of bucking horses, creating the best opportunities for contestants to score well.

“What a spectacular night we had at the “Rodeo Oscars,” said Powder River’s Lori Franzen. “This is such a prestigious award for our company and family. And for Blackfoot, Idaho winning small rodeo of the year and the second year for the Black Hills Roundup winning, we’re so proud to be a part of these amazing shows.”

Anderson and several committee members were also in Vegas to conduct a little business. They attended seminars on rodeo-specific topics. They also booked performers for the 2020 event. Serving as barrel man will be Slim Gardner and the specialty act will be Jason Goodman with Young Living Percherons.

And as the NFR has concluded, it won’t be long until the 101st Black Hills Roundup which will take place June 30th - July 4th, 2020.
